

Middle School December Board Report
December 10, 2012

1. Danielle Wolfe, 8th grade language arts teacher, received a $2000 McElroy Grant for her Partners in Reading/Writing Project. Hopefully you will see an article in the tribune on Friday. On Thursday, she went and presented to the rotary. She is planning on coming in January to present.
2. Dr. Upedegraff and I visited Denver Community Schools on Tuesday to gain more information about their PLC's (professional learning communities). He shared what their current system looks like and was benefits they have seen with students.
3. My mentor, Leona Hoth, from Decorah will be here on Friday.
4. Washington, D.C. ticket sales have started. Currently, it looks like 57 students will attend and we have had 20 chaperone applications.
5. I have lined up for the University of Iowa to present an ATV safety and injury prevention assembly to students in March.
6. Boys basketball will begin this week.
7. Our Holiday Vocal Concert is this Thursday.
